

Cheri Martinez brings 17 years of successful educational experience to the table. Currently in her fourth year as principal of Harrison High School, she began her administrative career there as an assistant principal in 2003.

Prior to becoming an administrator, Cheri taught high school health in Cañon City for 11 years. She enjoyed a successful coaching career during her tenure there, coaching track, cross-country and girls' basketball. In fact, Cheri's boys' cross-country team won the state championship in 1998.

Cheri began her teaching career in Victorville, California where she taught middle school health for two years. She completed her college studies at Colorado State University, majoring in Consumer and Family Studies. A native of Colorado Springs, she attended Widefield School District #3, grades K-12. Cheri is a proud graduate of Widefield High School, but her heart belongs to Harrison!
