Join us for Rocky Mountain National Park
August 24 & 25, 2012

Education Volunteer Opportunities

National Geographic and Rocky Mountain National Park are seeking volunteers to help with youth participation in BioBlitz 2012.

Education Group Leaders:
These volunteers should have experience working with youth in the outdoors. Experience with aquatic macroinvertebrates is preferred, but not required.

- Education Group Leader volunteers will be responsible for aquatic field activities with a group of 12 students from 8am - 2:30pm Friday, August 24 and/or Saturday, August 25.
- Education Group Leader volunteers must be able to attend one of two six-hour training sessions offered on August 9 and August 16.

Site Assistants:
These volunteers are responsible for assisting a National Park Service Site Manager with logistics at a BioBlitz Education Site. Duties may include ushering groups of students to different locations, shuttling supplies, and setting up/breaking down site materials.

- Site Assistants are needed from 8am - 3:30pm Friday, August 24 and/or Saturday, August 25. Attendance of a training session on August 9 or August 16 is recommended but not required.

Registration is required by June 7, 2012.

For more information, or to register, please contact:

Mark De Gregorio
mark_de_gregorio@nps.gov
970-586-3777